Dedication

More than by adequate endowments, extensive libraries, well-equipped laboratories, and modern buildings—as significant as all of these are—the excellence of any college depends upon the abilities of its faculty members. For the past five years there has been in the history department of Troy State College a teacher of great talent, a truly eminent professor, Dr. Raymond Deming. From the richness of his academic experiences and out of the overflow of his vital personality, he has kindled the imagination of many college students so that they have been able to visualize the importance of geography as a moving pageantry of men and human progress. His kindness and sincerity have inspired the confidence of his students. If we should list the teachers who are helping to make Troy State College great, the name of Dr. Raymond Deming would receive a prominent position. With great pride we wish to dedicate the 1964 Palladium to this excellent teacher and friend.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Frank Ross Stewart became President of Troy State College on July 1, 1961. He received a B.S. degree from Jacksonville State and from Alabama Polytechnic Institute; a M.S. from A.P.I.; has done further graduate study at Columbia and Peabody; and received an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree from Auburn in 1959.

Dear Friends:

Sometime in the face of the future, the eternal eye of Time will interrupt the constant sweep of current scenes to gaze backward in fond memory on etchings of the past. The pages of this Palladium hold previous etchings of moments of happiness and joy, and those of us who have lived through the moments of the past year will thrill to see the sharp beam of enduring memory focused effectively to survey them once again.

The Palladium Staff deserves our warmest gratitude and most solemn thanks for capturing within these pages a fleeting whiff of the pride we feel in Troy State College, a rapid glimpse of the prestige and honor of our college, a glance of the varied programs of our College, an echo of the courteous and traditional customs of our College, an unmistakable impression of the gallantry of our men and the beauty and graciousness of our young ladies.

We are indeed glad that time will place on each who has shared these experiences an approving glance, together with the hope that each will consider himself a sentry to keep safe our great land and its cherished dream of opportunity.

Sincerely yours,

Frank R. Stewart

James Burns Clements

(1903-1963)

James Burns Clements came to Troy State in 1950. He watched the college double and triple in size. His own responsibilities increased in proportion as both students and buildings multiplied. The increasing task found him able to meet it in an efficient manner.

On the Troy Campus Burns Clements was more than Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. Enjoying the confidence of college personnel on all levels, he numbered among his friends students, faculty members, administrative personnel, Deans and Presidents. He also had the respect and loyalty of his own staff.

He was cordial, genial, generous, a pleasant conversationalist, a good companion, a warm and true friend. He met the demands made upon him with cheerfulness, dealing with people with understanding and courtesy. His services were often rendered at the sacrifice of his own convenience but were rendered faithfully.

He was a good man who lived a useful life, meeting his problems with courage. He lived with dignity and had the respect of his fellowmen. Large numbers of friends honor his memory.

The Trojan Rifles, Troy State's branch of the National Rifle Association, was organized by students interested in promoting safe and proper handling of small arms and to promote sportsmanship by engaging in competitive matches with rifle and pistol clubs.

History Honor Society

The History Honor Society is sponsored by the History and Social Studies Department for the purpose of giving encouragement and recognition to scholarly work in history. To be eligible for membership a student must take either a major or minor in history and have an overall average of 2.0 and an average of 2.5 in history. Invitations to membership are extended by the faculty of the sponsoring department.

Campus Beauty

Campus Beauty

The annual selection of Campus Beauty is a major campus event which takes place in January sponsored by the Palladium. This year twenty representatives, sponsored by each class, competed for the honor of being chosen Campus Beauty.

The lucky girl was Miss Faye Buckelew, a charming Senior from Opp, Alabama. Faye, an elementary education major, has been honored with many beauty titles. She plans to enter the field of education after her graduation from Troy State College.

The Lettermen boast one of the freshest, most magnificent vocal blends of any group in the entertainment field, and the sound has brought them almost instantaneous success. This trio is composed of Tony Butala, Jim Pike, and Bob Engemann. The Lettermen were sponsored by the S.G.A. and appeared in Sartain Hall on February 10, 1964.

The Lettermen

The Journeymen

The Journeymen, sponsored by the S.G.A., appeared in Sartain Hall on October 24, 1963. This singing trio, composed of John Phillips, Richard Weissman, and Scott McKenzie, has a unique singing style in that they combine both traditional and new folk songs.

The

by
The National Players

The National Players brought to the stage of Troy State College, William Shakespeare's hilarious study in wife training, The Taming of the Shrew. The Players Company is unique on the American theatrical scene. Having toured the classics since 1949 in this country, including nine different tours abroad, they have played to capacity audiences all over the world. [197]

Jose Molina Bailes Espanoles

On October 28, 1963, The Bailes Espanoles appeared in Troy as a Lyceum number, and featured a company of 10 performers in a program of songs and dances from Spain. The artists, among the most popular in Spain today, have received high praise from American critics. All have impressive professional backgrounds, and have appeared with most of the great flamenco artists of our time.
